

- Are you not receiving the right information as and when you need it?
- Do you have to run multiple queries to produce a single report?
- Is there lack of confidence that management decisions are being based on accurate and reliable information?
- Are many of your business intelligence projects never completed or fail to deliver what they promise at their outset?
- Do you find it difficult to justify a Business Intelligence business case due to the high costs involved?

"...continually exceed expectations with their professionalism, diligence and commitment..."

- Which areas of the business yield a better return?
- Are sales people meeting their targets?
- Who are our most profitable customers?
- Which products deliver the best margins?

In most organizations answers to these questions and a host of other business critical questions are buried in a variety of disconnected applications, websites and databases. Business Intelligence solutions extract and organise the data and enables you to place the right information, into the right people's hands, at the right time in an accurate, meaningful, and timely manner.

6pm's BI consultants are able to provide you with a solution to arm your staff with the most meaningful and up to date information. This will allow them to analyse, plan and take decisions, leveraging the information to optimize performance and satisfy customer demand better and faster than the competition.

The 6pm Value

6pm have a wealth of experience in quickly and easily uniting data from disparate sources and making this available to your employees, partners or even customers to support your decision processes, improve operational efficiency and build more profitable customer relationships.

Our BI consultants are knowledgeable in a number of business intelligence tools such as Business Objects, Crystal Reports and Axle Studio. The 6pm difference however lies in our pragmatic approach! Working with different budgets and across industries has meant that 6pm can do more with less.

Our Agile philosophy enables us to identify the areas that will yield more return. Our commitment to the customer relationship ensures that we fully understand your business and your requirements. Together this ensures that we deliver a total solution that yields real business benefits for 60% less than it would cost you in the UK!
